

YOUTH PRAYER ACTIVITY

In many faith traditions, prayer beads are used as a tactile tool to assist in prayer. The beads act as a reminder of the need to pray regularly for a particular issue.

Resources needed:

- Prayer points and information on least-reached people groups (www.globalinteraction.org.au/justprayer)
- String – to thread beads
- Coloured beads – nine different colours (to represent the nine least-reached people groups Global Interaction work among). Enough sets for everyone to make their own.

Activity

1. Invite the young people to thread the beads into a bracelet, anklet, necklace or onto a key chain. Let it be a reminder to pray for the least-reached.
2. Explain about the injustice of the least-reached and the nine people groups with which Global Interaction works.
3. Pray together for those people groups that are still to hear about Jesus. Commit to praying each time you are reminded by the beads.
